A HOT MONTH.

Excessively Warm Weather, but Hot Waves Will Be Followed by Cooler Days

SAYS HICKS IN HIS

FORECAST FOR JULY.

There will be a noticeable tendency to cloudiness during the first 10 days of the month. Very warm, muggy weather will prevail, a portion of the time, but a very probable change to cooler will pass over the country between the 4th and 7th. The second storm period covers the 7th to the 11th. Thunder storms, with wind and rain, will strike many localities during the progress of these storm conditions. Another change to cooler will follow for two or three days. On the 15th look for change to much warmer, with more rain, wind and thunder. There will be much blustering, but the rainfall will not be very heavy. Slight change to cooler will naturally follow these re-actionary excitements. A regular storm period is central on the 20th. Look out for very high temperature. One of the warmest waves of the month may be counted on from about the 24th to the 27th, accompanied by active electrical storms and culminating in many thunder gusts. Cooler to the close of the month. The month comes to its close in the first stage of a regular storm period, the culmination of which will fall in the opening days of August. Some eastern to northern parts of our great agricultural regions will feel a pinch of dryness in July and August, and most other sections will have a little moisture to spare.

Another Snake Lie.

The Hopkinsville Messenger gets off the following: "Mr. Lindsey Yancey met with a very exciting incident last Sunday evening, while returning home from the 'West.' He was driving along the Johnson road near Squire Cavanaugh's seemingly perfectly happy until he was attacked by a very large snake which reared itself up and began to attempt to enter the buggy and as it succeeded in coming in on one side Lindsey went out on the other. His horse being a gentle one carried the buggy safely on home while the snake took a pleasure ride. The horse arrived home about dark and the family seeing that Lindsey was not in the buggy ran out to try to learn the cause. The snake then dismounted and made its way across the woods. The alarm soon spread among the neighbors of Lindsey being missing and search for him was begun at once. He was found about 3 o'clock a. m., near the spot where he received his fright in a seemingly unconscious condition continually muttering something, from the best they could understand it was, 'Oh! Lou! Lou! Lindsey is fast recovering and it is thought he will be all right in a short time. Old man Jim Yancey says as best he could see of the snake he thinks it was at least fifteen feet long and as large around as his leg and gray headed.

Think twice before extracting the mighty dollar from your pocket to invest in a get-rich-quick proposition.

When you finally get next to the fact that you don't know much, stop talking and give others a chance to put you wise.

If that injunction issued in Omaha restraining a woman from talking could be put in small packages for the trade how many men would be tempted to take a few home to the loved ones.

VISIT TO EARLINGTON.

By a Party of Popular Hopkinsville Ladies Thursday.

The Hopkinsville Kentuckian has the following to say in regard to the Hopkinsville-Earlington finish contest:

Seventeen Hopkinsville ladies left Thursday morning on the ten o'clock train for Earlington, where they were delightfully entertained until the midnight train by the ladies and gentlemen of that town. Traps and carriages met the party, and after driving them around town they were driven out to the lake where a delicious dinner was served in the pavilion. After dinner an hour or two was spent rowing and fishing on the lake, having pictures taken and enjoying the beautiful scenery. About four o'clock the party returned to Earlington in traps, were driven to the mines and points of interest around the town and entertained at supper. Mrs. E. A. Chatten was hostess at the finish party given in the evening. Ten games were played and during the contesticed punch was served and at the conclusion the picnic crowd had to rush for the train. The Earlingtons beat by a score of 106 to 74.

In the Hopkinsville party were Mesdames Henry Tandy, Tom Underwood, Jonett Henry, Manning Brown, William Cummings, James O. Cook, Tom L. Morrow, Joe Bullard, Dixon Kitchen, E. C. Russell, Misses Fannie Phelps, Lee Campbell, Kate Harrison, Sallie Campbell, Pat Flack, Annie Rutherford, Elizabeth Sites.

The Smallest Adult Woman in the World.

We have had dwarf women, but they have been taller than Chiquita and almost always ill-shapen. Chiquita is a native of Cuba, and is twenty-six inches high, hardly as high as a table, and twenty-six years of age. When she was a baby a full-sized cigar box was her cradle. Her feet are small as those of an eight months' babe, but they are pretty, and her limbs are as well moulded as those of a young girl. Her head is shapely, and the glossy black hair which reaches below her waist is drawn up at the back in a Psyche knot.

Chiquita's eyes are wonderful and Chiquita knows it. No stage beauty of the modern school can throw into her glance more heart, more soul, more wit, more wickedness than flash into the deep black depths of Chiquita's eyes.

In a gown of pink Dresden silk, trimmed with turquoise blue, Chiquita looks like just the sort of doll every baby girl loves to possess. The gown is lined with soft white silk, and the long Court train is thrown over Chiquita's plump arm, making her look like a fairy princess. The bodice is cut low and square, showing a throat that is full and shoulders round and pretty, across which are drawn straps of passementerie, studded with turquoise. A tiny Empire fan completes this one of her favorite toilets.

Chiquita can dance Turkish dances, but her favorite amusement is standing on her head. She can also draw caricatures rather cleverly, has a quick ear for music, plays the piano and the guitar, and rides a bicycle, which is a gem of a machine.

She shows off tailor-made gowns, shirts, and men's collars, and ties to perfection, is never ill, works cleverly with her needle, and contemplates going on the stage.

GUN CLUB NOTES.

The boys are doing some good shooting and with a little more practice they could make any local club give a good account of themselves.

Em Goodloe, the old reliable, was out Thursday. This is the first time he has shot at a clay target for several years. He got fourteen out of twenty-five, which was not bad.

Frank Arnold was there with his 13 again. We wish Frank could break that hoodoo. If he could ever get above that unlucky 13 we could depend on him for 18 or more every time.

Barter and Coy Morgan were so sure they would have to shoot off a tie for the medal and were looking for extra shells when Doc shot it off for them.

Beaugardus was out again. He says it is not his fault that he is not breaking more as he has had no gun to shoot with.

John X. is still among the eleven.

Henry Bourland did not get out Thursday. Henry is always good for 12, but that's his limit.

Dr. Chatten got a bad box of shells Thursday. He was booked for 22 and only got 18.

Mrs. Renfrow certainly made her words good about Doc being among the first next time. He was there with 24.

Bob Priest says Keown is the man he is after but gets beat one every time.

Henry Seck wants to trade his gun for a mule. Henry thinks the mule could not kick as hard as the gun.

Chas. Robinson has an off day every Thursday. Charlie can break from sixteen to twenty any other day.

Cal Martin went out after the medal again, but the best Cal could do was 16 and that won't win now.

The Color of The Rose.

More than with any other flower does the color of the rose have special significance. Red is love, white is silence, yellow speaks jealousy. One of the legends connected with the rose tells that it became white through being bathed with the tears of mourners who sought the sweet-scented flower to lay in the hands of their dead. A poetess once declared that all roses were white until one day young Cupid, darning among them, upset in his merry sport a glass of wine, which dyed the roses upon which it fell, red, its own color. Another legend tells the story of a holy little maid of Bethlehem who was doomed to death. When the stakes were heaped around her the fire would not burn, but the brands which had been flaming turned to red roses, and those which had not caught, to white. From this time forth roses, red and white, were martyrs' flowers. The Turks say that red roses sprang from the blood of Mohammed.—N. Hudson Moore in the July Delistener.

The strawberry on analysis proves to be 99 per cent water, but praise the Lord for the other 11 per cent.

NEWSPAPER DIGNITY.

Publisher Oves something to Himself and His Calling.

Why is it that newspaper people are so ready to pick up every silly anecdote, regurgitate upon the profession and give the same prominent place in their columns, looking upon them as the richest jokes to be found? We are constrained to make this little growl because of finding in one of our favorite territorial exchanges, a paper edited with more than average ability, the following effusion:

"Go down in your pocket and dig up some dust. The editor is hungry, and eat he surely must. The toothsome luxuries of life for once we'd like to taste, but instead we feel a gauntness in the front part of our waist. Wife needs a new sunbonnet, and Ula needs a dress, Ellis needs some breeches, and so do Ben and Wes. Elvin's on the hog train; the rest are on the pig. Come learn our low subscription and then go down and dig. Fish up the price and pay us a whole year in advance and help us patch the awning in the south side of our pants."

If the writers of such begging epistles can't make a living in the newspaper business, why don't they quit it and go to chopping cotton? If they must pose as public medics, why not wear a green shade over their eyes, stand on the street corner and poke a tin cup out for pennies of pedestrians? There was no law to force them to go into the newspaper business; there is no law compelling them to stay in it.

Thoughtlessness and lack of appreciation of the dignity that a newspaper should possess are the principle causes of the publication of many of the silly jokes by the country press. But are they responsible for their reproduction in trade journals, which profess to be published for the enlightenment and education of the newspaper fraternity? One excellent journal which comes to us regularly is especially addicted to this habit. Each month it gives a choice collection, apparently conning its exchanges with great care, fearfully lest might be overlooked some item in regard to a hungry printer or the strangely successful effort of an editor to connect with a $4.98 suit of clothes, occasionally finding the joke so rich that it calls for a special cartoon. Isn't it time for the self respecting newspaper men of the country to declare that such rot shall no longer find place in their columns?

This screed may seem out of place and uncalled for, but it's something that's long been ranking in our mind, and we had to get rid of it.—Purcell (I. T.) Register.

Town at Reelfoot.

Work will soon commence on a new village at Wade's landing, on Reelfoot lake. Wide streets will be laid out, and 20 comfortable cottages will front on them, each with a garden. There will also be a large hotel and storehouse built. Only 20 cottages will be built as needed, some of which will be rented by the year, while there will be others to let to fishing parties. There will be a large and elegant park, with natural trees and ornamental shrubbery as one of the features.—Owensboro Messenger.

If there is anything nicer to look at and own than a herd of White-faced cattle it is a herd of Daddies, and neither kind costs any more to keep than a herd of scrub.

He Told the Mule.

An editor's small son, who lives in a nearby city, recently said to his mother: "Mamma, I think the man who takes away our ashes is the best man I know. I think he is even better than papa." His mother expressed surprise and asked why he thought the ashman better than his father. "Well, said the boy, he came with a poor old mule the other day and after he had filled the wagon he told the mule to get up. But the mule was tired and would not go. Then the man whipped the mule hard, but even then it would not go. Then the good man sat down on the grass and told the poor old mule all about Jesus and the bad place."

The Young Man's Taste.

"The chances are," says the New York Evening Post, "that the college student who reads a daily paper pays chief attention to the sporting columns; if he buys a magazine it is more likely to be Munsey's than the Atlantic. His poet is probably Kipling, his novelist the author of the last big seller, and he has no favorite essayist." Well, what of it? Who expects anything more of the college student? He is young, with, boyish, unformed tastes, of "solid reading" he gets enough in connection with his class work, and is lucky if the method in which classical literature is brought to his attention does not give him a permanent distaste for it. Besides, his mind is well filled, and he has but little opportunity for general reading. It may be doubted, too, if a man ever gained a taste for the best reading while at college. He may have had it when he went there; he may acquire it in the leisure of later life, but the college atmosphere, as a rule, is not conducive to the cultivation of literary tastes. The man with a taste for books has usually gained it in his own home in youth.

A Truth Apply.

An anxious inquirer, says an exchange, wants to know why a newspaper is like a woman. The various answers given are: "Because it has to have some one to run it." "Because both have to be known to be appreciated." "Because both are good advertising mediums." "Because both have to be pressed." "Because it occasionally changes its dress and tells tales." The correct answer is: "Because every man should have one of his own and not be running around after his neighbor's."

A preacher came at a newspaper man in this way: "You editors do not tell the truth. If you did you could not live; your newspaper would be a failure." The editor replied: "You are right, and the minister who will at all times and under all circumstances tell the whole truth about his members, alive or dead, will not occupy his pulpit more than one Sunday, and then he will find it necessary to leave town in a hurry. The press and pulpit go hand in hand with whitewash brush and pleasant words magnifying little virtues into big ones. The pulpit, the pen and the grave-stone are the great saint-making triumvirate." And the great minister went away looking very thoughtful, while the editor turned to his work, and told of the surpassing beauty of the bride, while in fact she was as homely as a mud fence.

There is some destructive bug or fungus for every spot in every locality. If there should be none one is made for the vacancy.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT McCHESNEY.

Catches a Six-Pound Bass Without Hook or Line.

The party composing the Smithland Fishing Club retires at from Chipp's takes labor spending a most pleasant week with the funny tribe. The party was composed of the following gentlemen: State Superintendent H. V. McChesney, County Clerk G. W. Landrum, Circuit Clerk J. C. Parsons, Dr. F. G. LaRue, F. Brandstetter, T. O. Holt and R. D. Reed, Mr. McChesney carried away the blue ribbon. He landed ninety fish during the stay, one of the largest of which—a fine six-pound bass—was caught with his hand, without hook or line, as it passed his boat swimming near the surface of the water. Mr. McChesney was very proud of this catch and when relating his experience at camp would aver that "hoss laugh" by producing an eye-witness in the person of Frank Brandstetter, who occupied a seat in the same boat and witnessed the "new wrinkle."—Livingstone Banner.

HIGHT-DUNNING.

Pretty Wedding Takes Place in Crofton.

Mr. Frazier Hight, of Lobelia, near Crofton and Miss Maude Dunning, of that place, were united in marriage Sunday. The event took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah P. Dunning, and was witnessed by a few of the most intimate friends of the young people. Esq. J. M. Clark performed the ceremony.

GONE TO EUROPE.

Two Hopkinsville Girls to Spend Summer Abroad.

Misses Sallie George Blakey and Jessie Graham left Hopkinsville, Saturday via Louisville for Europe. They will accompany Mr. and Mr. George Blakey, of Louisville, on a trip to the continent lasting three months. They are two of Hopkinsville's most attractive girls of the younger set, whose studies at college will be resumed upon their return.—Kentuckian.

A Praiseworthy Step.

The Tennessee Press Association took a very praiseworthy step at its meeting just held in this city by authorizing another convention to be held in August for the purpose of overhauling and amending its constitution and by-laws. The members of the association seemed to be quite aware of the great injustice that had been done the organization in the past through the too liberal use of its membership cards on the occasion of the annual outing, and they are going to put a stop to it, sure, if they can. The meeting in August should embrace all the reputable newspapers in the state and an association should be formed that will reflect credit upon the craft. Such an association should be made out of the working, and not the ornamental members of the fraternity.—Chattanooga Times.

The Limit.

One of the best things said lately was by a Missouri editor. In addressing his Sunday school class he said: "Fame has taken men from the forge, the plow and the carpenter's bench, but she was never known to reach over a picket fence and snatch a dude out of a hammock."

TORTURING DISFIGURING Skin, Scalp and Blood Humours

Speedily Cured by Cuticura
Soap, Ointment and Pills

When the Best Physicians and All Else Fail.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurements, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worried parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt rheum,—all demand a remedy of almost supernatural virtue to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of steady and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made them the standard skin cures, blood purifiers and humors remedies of the civilized world. Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, with soft hand rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal. And, lastly, take the Cuticura Resolvent Pills, to cool and cleanse the blood. This complete treatment, costing but one dollar, affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning and scaly humors of the skin, scalp and blood, and points to a speedy, permanent and economical cure when all other remedies and the best physicians fail.

supreme court attended and paid their own expenses.

The members of the legislature went also, but they arranged with one James Russ, a hotel man, to pay the expenses and then provided for the payment in the appropriation bill, but Gov. Hastings vetoed this portion of the bill.

The next legislature passed an act authorizing Russ to sue the state, but Gov. Stone vetoed this. The last legislature passed this act again and this time Gov. Pennybacker signed the bill.

Russ has now entered suit in the Dauphin county courts presenting the following itemized bill:

To table supplies.....	$1,678.26
To wines and liquors.....	$3,026.00
To supper for committee.....	61.90
To J. H. Ribel for cigars.....	450.00
To hire of china and br'kage.....	187.53
To employes' services.....	240.00
To carriage.....	292.50
To purchase of stoves.....	70.00
To freight charges.....	8.27
To James Russ, incidentals.....	175.00
	$6,100.16

Cr. By liquors returned.....$157.00
Cr. By sale of stoves.....189.00

Balance due.....$5,911.16

Attorney General Hampton L. Cannon has given notice that he will defend the state against the payment of the bill.

This will certainly furnish interesting campaign material for the next general election. It is worse than such an outrageous affair it would be a good subject for the cartoonist, but it grossly insults the memory of the dead hero whose service to his country deserved other than this.

What sort of legislation may be expected from such a body of legislators? Women would have to try hard to do worse, and yet the majority of these wine-bibbling male legislators would probably throw up their hands in holy horror at the bare suggestion of women legislators. Truly, this is a strange world.

On June 9, Anthony Phillips of Scranton, Penn., was arranged in court on the charge of trying to roast alive his six-months old baby.

According to the evidence Phillips came home about noon in a state of beastly intoxication, and asked or rather demanded, his son's wages. On his wife's refusing to comply with his demand, he seized the baby in his arms and thrust it into the oven of the red-hot stove. The mother sprang to the stove and, with the strength of desperation, pushed the father aside and rescued the child whose clothing was already smoking and burning. Almost miraculously, as it would seem, the child was not injured beyond slight burns on its arms. And this too, in Christian America. In the year 1903. How long, how long, shall these things be allowed to continue?

Readers of THE BEE will remember that a few months ago, we published an account of a banquet given by the Young People's Christian Temperance Union, of Chicago, of which Miss Eva Marshall Shonts is president, where the guest of honor was Charles E. Holden, a rising young attorney of Chicago, who presented the plan in his address that night of working for local option by wards.

On Friday, June 12, five hundred delegates from the different temperance organizations of Chicago, met with the Cook county W. C. T. U. at Willard Hall, when it was decided to begin at once the preparation of petitions urging the adoption of this plan.

An ordinance has been prepared under the direction of Mr. Holden, providing that the city shall be divided into local option districts corresponding to the wards of the city. It is proposed that upon the petition of one-fourth of the voters of any district, the question of license or no license shall be submitted to all the citizens of that district at the next election.

The plan of campaign was described to the delegates at Willard Hall meeting by Miss Shonts. It is hoped by those directing the movement that 100,000 names will be secured before the ordinance is introduced. Miss Shonts will direct the work of circulating the petitions. The entire delegation present was most enthusiastic over the movement.

Since the meeting Miss Shonts has sent a letter to the press in which she says, "Two years ago the indifference of the majority of Chicago's 30,000 Christian young people for consecrated, self-sacrificing warfare against the saloon was appalling, and Chicago's young people represent the young people of America."

This year she says nearly two churches have appointed delegates to attend the business meetings of the Young People's Christian Temperance Union. Farther on she says, "Our indifference was largely corrected." Now it is the exception if we are not greeted with inspiring crowds at home and abroad.

The Columbus, Ohio, Dispatch says, "Some persons are born famous, some become famous, and some are placed on the 'Prohibition ticket in Ohio.' The Dispatch did not ignore Kentucky in this way."

The Coming Woman.

"What will the coming woman do? To plague, perplex and interfere with us!"
Will she forbid the festive cheer
And capsize for ages dark with us?
Will she invade with lifted nose
Bistros where female foot ne'er went till late,
Bar room cozy and court room close,
And force reluctant man to ventilate?"
"Brother, and so I hear."
"Will the dear beauties where manhood played
At euchre bold and frisky seven-up—
Haunts where so oft our reason strayed—
To conversation teas be given up?
Must we then, all go home to dine?
And must a friend, in soda pledge his mate?
How shall the coming man get wine
At all, if she's allowed to legislate?"
"Brother, the case looks queer."
"Speak, O, friend! Has the woman's sphere,
The soft-soap rainbow sphere we kept her in,
Burst and vanished and left her here
With the world at large to wield her sceptre in?"
Is she up to our little game?
Can she bend us, in reality,
Down to the precepts, much too tame,
We've preached to her for pure morality?"
"Brother, the worst I fear."
"Friend of my youth, I can no more;
Oh, fly with me this land iniquitous!"
"Nay, for I see, from shore to shore,
The enfranchised female rise ubiquitous.
Partner in purse she'll claim to be;
Logic of business she'll outwit us in!
Lost from life is dead latch key,
And lost from earth the white male citizen.
Brother the end is near."
—Eliza Sprout Turner.

The Railroad Edition of THE BEE will contain an interesting letter from the pen of Mrs. Evelyn N. Graham, the National W. C. T. U. Supt. of Railroad Work.

A copy of a sprightly Prohibition paper called The New Era and published at Arthur, Ky., has been received by the editor of this department.

It takes for its motto, Habakkuk 2:15, and has unfurled the Prohibition state ticket at its masthead. It is a very readable and newsy sheet, well worth the subscription price of 75 cents a year. Among other things we saw this on one of its pages: "Every Kentuckian who favors sobriety, who is a friend to mankind, who loves God and respects the church should vote the straight unscratched Prohibition ticket." If this were done how soon the traffic in poison would be banished from the Bluegrass State.

The cheering news is received that President Roosevelt has requested Secretary of War Root to call a halt, in the nefarious legislative scheme in regard to the traffic in opium, in the Philippines.

John G. Woolley has prepared what he calls a Fourth of July oration for the readers of The New Voice, in which he gives 162 evidences of the growth of opposition to the liquor traffic in the past year as shown by acts of legislation, judicial decisions, utterances of the press, notable rallies, and other important events of wide range.

The Pastors' Association of Madisonville has prepared a petition to the Mayor and city council, praying that no further licenses nor renewals of licenses be granted. This petition will be circulated during the month of July.

An effort will be made to cultivate a strong moral sentiment against the liquor traffic and then under well organized management, push the matter until victory is won.

TEXT OF PETITION.
To the Honorable Mayor and City Council of the City of Madisonville, Ky.:

We, the undersigned, voters of the city of Madisonville, believe that the saloon is a source of lawlessness in our Commonwealth and is baneful in its influence upon every good institution in our land. Reaching as it does the young men, it disqualifies them for business prosperity, for citizenship, for domestic happiness and the higher enjoyments of our holy religion.

We believe:
That the saloon in our own city has been and is now, the great factor of disorder and lawlessness among our citizens.

That its presence here has increased both moderate and excessive drinking and that it exposes our boys and girls to the perils of the drunkard's life with all its attendant vices.

That it hinders all our institutions that have for their aim the elevation of law-abiding, peaceable people.

That it makes impossible the highest type of Christian culture and citizenship for the people as a whole.

That its presence here stands in the way of many who would otherwise settle in our city, and thereby increase a population of good citizens and also the wealth of the city.

That the business is the greatest enemy to the forward movement of our educational interests.

That the revenue to our treasury from this source is not necessary to the financial stability and prosperity of our municipality.

Acting under these honest impressions and upon the constitutional right of the citizen, we petition and pray your honorable body to exercise your clemency toward these your representative constituents by rejecting all applications for license and for renewal, to sell intoxicating liquor in the city of Madisonville.

In this instrument we do not presume to dictate or demand, but to express our will and to render our moral support and sympathy to you in the performance of your official responsibility and duty.

PURE and unadulterated selfishness is one of the greatest causes of loneliness. If a man builds a brick wall around himself, so he may keep all that he has, he soon finds out that this same wall also keeps out all his friends and the pleasures and benefits that would come to him from others. So it is not only possible but probable that a cure for loneliness would result if selfishness were overcome.

AN exchange knew what it was talking about when it published the following:

The trade territory of a town is not at all dependent upon the distance to neighboring trading points. The territory depends upon the enterprise of the merchants and the residents of the town. If a town does not reach out after the trade it will only come as fast as it has to and it will grow only as it is forced to. But if the merchants go after the business in the surrounding country, advertising in every possible way, and make good every word of their advertising, trade will come from an ever increasing radius and the town will gain a reputation for being awake and it will forge to the front. It is the men in the town and not altogether the men living within a certain number of miles from it that makes the town good for nothing.

TREE PLANTING IN NEBRASKA.

Bureau of Forestry Has Planted 100,000 Seedlings—The Work to Continue This Summer.

One hundred acres of land in the sand hills of the Dismal River Forest Reserve, Nebraska, were planted this spring by the Bureau of Forestry. On 50 acres 100,000 pine seedlings were set out; the other 50 acres were sowed with seed. The work will continue this summer. The nursery will be enlarged so as to cover 2 acres, which will hold 2,000,000 seedlings. The Bureau intends to increase the size of the nursery gradually so as to make it grow enough seedling trees every year to furnish sufficient stock for the planting. It is intended ultimately to turn the whole of the Niobrara and Dismal River reserves, which are now barren sand hills, into forest by planting. The Dismal River Reserves includes 80,000 acres, the Niobrara Reserve 120,000. A survey of the boundaries of the Niobrara Reserves will be made this summer by E. J. S. Moore, of the Bureau of Forestry.

A Beautiful Wedding.

In June, "Then, I ever, come perfect day," and such a day was Tuesday last, when Earlington society turned out in full to witness the daintiest, most attractive summer wedding that ever occurred here.

The contracting parties in the charming affair were Miss Agnes H. Burr and Mr. Walter H. Finley and no young people ever received more hearty congratulations and good wishes than did these two.

The display of presents was elaborate and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. Finley left on the afternoon train, loaded with good wishes and—rice. Those attending from out of town were Mrs. Chas. Payne, of Chattanooga, Miss Johnson, Philadelphia, Mr. Finley, father of the groom, and Mr. Blair Finley, best man and brother of the groom, Mr. and the Misses Hendricks, of Madisonville. The ceremony was performed on a lawn under an arbor beautifully decorated in white gables, field daisies and oak boughs. This making an effective setting for the bridal party all of which were in white. This same decorative scheme was carried out over the entire affair. Very elegant refreshments were served and the afternoon was most happy one, long to be remembered.

How Wild Animals are Captured.

In the July Pearson's is a most interesting article by Raymond Blathway, describing the methods employed by Mr. Carl Hagenbeck in his great animal hunting expeditions into the wildest parts of the earth. These expeditions cost vast sums and employ thousands of men in the work of capturing and transporting the wild animals. Lions, wild buffaloes, giraffes, antelopes and ostriches all require different methods of pursuit and capture, and even when captured safely, the work of transportation is most formidable. Mr. Blathway describes graphically some exciting scenes connected therewith. The article is well illustrated with photographs.

It appears that a large percentage of the American people are still interested in professional baseball. The great beauty of baseball is that a lazy man can thoroughly enjoy it without exercising.

Two Bottles Cured Him

"I was troubled with kidney complaint for about two years," writes H. H. Davis, of St.irling, Va., "but two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure effected a permanent cure."

Fencing the Sport of President Roosevelt.

Fred Gilbert Blackstone, late swordmaster in the First Regiment, C. N. G., has written for the July Pearson's an article on fencing which will interest all lovers of athletic sports. No other form of athletics is the product of so many centuries of careful thought as fencing. In times past the use of the sword was always considered one of the first requisites of a gentleman, and the foil of today is still a gentleman's weapon, in the use of which a quick eye, an active brain, and supple wrist count for far more than mere brute strength.

The despot of President Roosevelt added this art to his long list of athletic accomplishments cannot fail to awaken a still more general interest in the sport throughout the United States. The article gives a short sketch of the history of the art, and explains the distinction between the Italian and the French schools.

We want the news that happens here in Earlington and we also want our friends to help us obtain it. If you go anywhere, telephone T. Bee; if you have a friend visiting you, telephone T. Bee; if your neighbor is sick, telephone T. Bee; if you know of anyone that has been or is going anywhere, telephone T. Bee; no matter what language we want to know about it. It may seem trivial to you, when in reality it is a good news item. Don't forget we have a good telephone and are always ready to answer it.

Gen. Sierra, ex-president of Honduras, was killed, cut detached from troops sent in pursuit of him by Gen. Borilla. Ungrateful as this republic is, it doesn't treat its ex-presidents like that.

The Foundation of Health.

Nourishment is the foundation of health—life—strength. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the one great medicine that cures the stomach and digestive organs to digest, assimilate and transform all foods into the kind of blood that nourishes the nerves and feeds the tissues. William E. Watt, principal of a Chicago grammar school, declares Shakespeare to be a "cheap punster." Which proves incidentally that there are forms of humor worse than punning.

A FACT ABOUT THE "BLUES"

What is known as the "Blues" is seldom occasioned by actual existing external conditions, but in the great majority of cases by a disordered liver.

THIS IS A FACT which may be demonstrated by trying a course of

Tutt's Pills

They control and regulate the LIVER. They bring hope and buoyancy to the mind. They bring health and elasticity to the body.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

It is quite likely that the most profitable crop for one to plant is the very one of which at the time of planting or sowing there may be such a surplus as to make the production of a crop unprofitable. The many who let it alone insure good demand later on.

In a letter from Caseyville, Ky., W. E. Millikan, says: "Hill's Specific cured me of diarrhoea and dysentery and my little girl of summer complaint. At this season of the year we hear this on all sides, as there is nothing so common as diarrhoea and dysentery, and all complaints peculiar to children during the summer months. Price 25¢ at all patent medicine dealers in the country."

We think that people are more inclined to white and fret during a very wet time than they are during a protracted drought, for during the wet times there are added to other losses the question of villanous roads and a pest of mosquitoes.

Catch at the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded, when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucus, instead of the natural gastric digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, but was cured by Indigestion, Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It is a perfect cure. Sold by John N. Taylor.

Moral depravity of a pretty low type is evidenced in a case where a western farmer used his young son to try and palm off some young squirrel traps for wolf traps in order to obtain the bounty paid on the "red-eyes."

Paine's Celery Compound

CURES RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism, which does its terrible work in the muscles, joints, and tissues, is caused by uric acid which gathers in the blood. To get rid of this poisonous acid which produces the irritations, pains, agonies, inflammations, and swellings, Paine's Celery Compound should be used without delay. No other medicine gives such prompt, cheering, and happy results. It is the only medicine that prevents a return of the dreaded disease. Paine's Celery Compound breaks the nerves, the blood is quickly cleared of all irritating poisons, inflammation and muscle are built up, and the digestive organs perfectly toned. It is not treated with indifference the slightest rheumatic symptoms; the early use of Paine's Celery Compound will save you weeks and months of suffering. Mr. S. C. Conway, St. Louis, Mo., was permanently cured by Paine's Celery Compound after repeated failures with other medicines and physicians; he says:—

"I am 64 years of age, and have lived in St. Louis 27 years, and all this time with the exception of three years, I have served in the Engineer Department as Inspector. Last winter I contracted rheumatism and was laid up. I tried all remedies and doctors, but all failed until I used Paine's Celery Compound, which has made a permanent cure in my case. I have recommended it to many, and they have used it with the same results."

MINING NOTES.

Sam Magenheimer was so unfortunate as to have his finger slightly mashed in the mines one day last week.

Mr. J. E. Cloren who had his leg injured several days ago in No. 11 is improving and will soon be able to resume duty.

The mines will not run on July 4th and most of the miners and their families will spend the day at Lake Side park.

A great many improvements are being made at the various mines of the St. Bernard Company, new machinery is being added and the capacity of the mines will be greatly increased.

Preparations are being made to put in a motor at the Hecla mine to replace the rope system that is in use there now.

General Manager W. L. Gordon and Foreman Tombs visited Shamrock Mine last week their object was to confer upon some needed changes at that place by which the output will be increased. A track scale for that place was understood is now in transit.

The No. 11 scale was overhauled and the track laid on crossties and an up-to-date deck laid upon the same by the company carpenters last week.

Arnold mine stable is finished in good style and Charlie Gill has been induced into office as stable boss.

The Seabrook mine installed a new shaker last week. It was made in this place and put in by M. Hanna of the "Earlington Iron Works."

At the residence of the bride's parents Mr. Thos. McMillan and Miss Kate Cloren were united in holy bonds of matrimony at 7:30 o'clock last night by Rev. Hesson. The bride and groom left on a last night for Evansville on their bridal tour.

This is a good move in the right direction and all the colored people who can should join. The K. P. is one of the very best organizations in the country and is rapidly forging itself to the front.

A number of prominent Kentucky college presidents and others held a meeting in Cincinnati Tuesday and organized the Intercollegiate Association of Kentucky.

Caution!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1898 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boecher's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup—and especially for Consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 50¢ size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by St. Bernard Drug Store.

a food because it stands so emphatically for perfect nutrition.

And yet in the matter of restoring appetite, of giving new strength to the tissues, especially to the nerves, its action is that of a medicine.

HAPPENINGS IN KENTUCKY.

Walter Carr, claiming North Carolina as his home, was arrested at Salt Lick and lodged in the Owsingville jail on a charge of selling whisky without a license. Carr carried his whisky in a jug and sold it by the drink. After his arrest he attempted to sell the arresting officer a drink.

A building boom has struck Smith's Grove and not less than six new houses are in course of construction. There is considerable talk now of a $10,000 building for the Smith's Grove Vanderbilt Training School. This proposed building is being considered by the Education Board of the Louisville Conference.

J. W. Arnett, of Owsingville, aged seventy years, a merchant, is dead as the result of an accident several days ago. He was returning from Carlisle with a load of coal. He fell from the wagon, which passed over his head and shoulder. He was discovered unconscious and carried home, but never recovered.

Elizabethtown, Ky., June 29.—George Alvey, postmaster and station agent at St. John's, this county, was seriously, if not fatally, stabbed by James Medley yesterday, the knife penetrating the stomach. Alvey is bleeding internally, and it is thought that the wound will prove fatal. Medley was arrested at 1:20 o'clock this morning by Sheriff Hart and Skillman. He was arraigned before County Judge Rider this morning. He waived an examining trial and was placed under bond for his appearance at the November term of the Circuit Court.

William J. Matthews, an aged farmer of Harrodsburg, had a narrow escape by falling down an embankment twenty feet into the river Monday while fishing. He would have drowned but for his timely rescue by his daughter, Mrs. Walter Cloyd, who was with him. His head and face were terribly lacerated by the fall, and he is in a critical condition.

Willoughby Inman cut and fatally wounded Bud Prewitt at Red Bird Church Sunday. There had been trouble between the young men before, and Inman called Powell out from the church and began cutting him without any further words. Inman is already under indictment for beating an old man in the same neighborhood. Red Bird is about six miles in the country.

What the Infidel Dreams.

Bob Taylor, the matchless prose poet of Tennessee, has made the world better by writing the following:

"It is the desert where virtue trembles to tread, where hope falters and faith is crucified, the infidel dreams. To him all there is in heaven is bounded by this little span of life. All there is of pleasure and love is circumscribed by a few fleeting years; all there is in the human brain; all there is of mystery and infinity is fathomable by human reason and all there is of virtue is measured by the relation of man to man. To him all must end in the 'tongueless silence of the dreamless dust,' and all that lies beyond the grave is a voiceless shore and a starless sky. To him there is no print of deathless feet on its echoless sand, or thrill of immortal music in its joyless air. He has lost his God, and like some seraph flying in the rayless night, he probes his way on flagging pinions, searching for the light where darkness reigns, for life where death is king."

When a weak man marries a strenuous woman she soon discovers that he is outclassed.

A good many things are more or less adulterated, but most political speeches are pure both.

YOUR LITTLE SWEETHEART.

Echoes of the First Chapter in Most Men's Love Story.

In the utmost beginning of things in that time when rosters were very large, and geese were very fierce, and only Mother could avert the thousand perils, heal the thousand wounds—existed a mythical partner established in family annals as "Your Little Sweetheart."

But, no. You may catch here a bit of blue ribbon, there an echo of a laugh, yet try as you will, you may not recall her. Evidently when Your Little Sweetheart Annie was put away along with dresses and curls, she was so far that she was lost forever.

What space of months, or of years, elapses you cannot tell. Nevertheless, suddenly you do witness yourself, still of age most immature (you recollect that somewhere in this period you were miserably spelled down on "flat") laying velvet offerings upon the desk of your First Love, a girl with brown eyes and rounded, rosy cheeks.

These offerings are in the shape of bright pearl buttons and carnelian pebbles. The transfer requires much breathless daring. Down the aisle of the schoolroom you march, your gift tightly clutched in your hand, which swings carefully by your side. Past her seat you scuttle, and, without a single glance, you leave the treasure upon the oaken top, beneath her eyes. Away you hurry, affrighted, ashamed, apprehensive, but hopeful. Presently, blushing, from your seat you steal a look across at her. She smiles reproachfully. The offering is gone. It is accepted; for she holds it up that you may see. And you grin back, as red as a beet, while your heart thumps like a trip hammer.

Most young birds know enough to stay in the nest until they can fly and properly care for themselves, in which respect the birds are wiser than many a boy.

Now a woman is suing her husband for divorce and charging that a senile heater has broken up her home. The charge must fall flat, as there is no such thing as home. Home is matter.

MID-SUMMER RAILROAD EDITION.

The Bee Will Issue Illustrated Number Devoted to Henderson Division L. & N.

INTERESTING HISTORIC DATA WILL BE PUBLISHED FOR FIRST TIME.

THE BEE's special mid-summer railroad edition will be one of the best railroad papers ever issued in Kentucky. In addition to the personal write-ups of the railroad men of the Henderson Division and their half-tone cuts, it will contain views of important railroad buildings along the line, such as the new passenger station at Evansville, the roundhouse at Howell and Earlington, the depot at Earlington and other places and views of passenger and freight trains. A complete history of the Henderson Division from the time it was surveyed up to the present time, the changes it has undergone and a great deal of interesting railroad data will be given in this edition.

A great many of the men on the division have already subscribed for copies of the mid-summer edition and others are subscribing every day. We wish to make this a thoroughly creditable special edition of THE BEE and want the cooperation of every railroad man on the Henderson Division. It is gotten up in their interest and benefit, and consequently should receive their liberal patronage.

W. F. Sheridan, our recent train master said before he left for Mexico that a railroad paper of this character was worth $5 to any H. D. railroad man now and in the course of time would be worth $20, on account of the personal write-ups of the men if nothing else.

All of the dispatchers, including the chief, several conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen have already signed contracts for copies of the edition. Foreman L. H. O'Brien is a subscriber, as is also Mr. Walsh and Supt. Jno. W. Lordson, of Evansville. We want every employee of the H. D. to get this edition of THE BEE and feel sure it is well worth the price asked.
